Cachet Homes builds more than homes, it builds relationships that are in harmony with the environment, community, neighborhood and individuals it serves. Founded by Matt and Whitney Cody in 1990, Cachet Homes' success goes back to basics with a team approach. From internal operations, employing more than 41 industry professionals, to the external talent of superior architects, designers, trade contractors, and vendors, the Cachet Homes team produces exceptional homes. Building relationships is important to Cachet Homes, through respectful development of the land and the creation of living spaces that are family friendly and reminiscent of traditional values. A Cachet home is the impetus for experiences, memories and relationships with family, friends, and new neighbors that will last a lifetime. With single-family homes ranging from around 2,200 to more than 5,000 square feet, townhomes ranging from 1,800 to more than 2,500 square feet, and condominiums ranging from 1,300 to more than 1,800 square feet, Cachet Homes provides homeowners with a variety of home choices, unsurpassed quality and a great homebuying experience.
